PROLOGUE

All.

Yoodle—ooh, yoodle-ooh-hoo, so sings a lone cowboy, Who with the wild roses wants you to be free.

Cattle, Horses, Sky and Grass

Cattle, horses, sky and grass
These are the things that sway and pass Before our eyes and through our dreams Through shiny, sparkly, golden gleams Within our psyche that find and know
The value of this special glow That only gleams for those who bleed Their soul and heart and utter need Into the mighty, throbbing Earth From which springs life and death and birth.

I'm alive! I'm alive, I'm alive, golden. I'm alive, I'm alive, I'm alive . . .

These cattle, horses, grass, and sky Dance and dance and never die
They circle through the realms of air And ground and empty spaces where A human being can join the song Can circle, too, and not go wrong Amidst the natural, pulsing forces Of sky and grass and cows and horses.

I'm alive, I'm alive, I'm alive . . .

This chant of life cannot be heard It must be felt, there is no word To sing that could express the true Significance of how we wind Through all these hoops of Earth and mind Through horses, cattle, sky and grass
And all these things that sway and pass.

Ordinary Boy

Let's talk about Matt—

Ordinary boy, ordinary boy, ordinary boy . . .

Born in December in Casper, Wyoming

Ordinary boy

to a father, Dennis and a mother, Judy

Ordinary boy, ordinary boy

Then came a younger brother, Logan

Ordinary boy

His name was Matthew Wayne Shepard. And one day his name came to be known around the world. But as his mother said:

Judy Shepard: You knew him as Matthew. To us he was Matt.

He went camping, he went fishing, even hunting for a moose He read plays and he read stories and especially Dr. Seuss

He wrote poems with illustrations for the neighbors on the street
And he left them in each mailbox till he learned it was illegal

He made friends and he wore braces and his frame was rather small He sang songs his father taught him

Frere Jacques . . .

Row Row Row Your Boat . . .

Twinkle Twinkle Little Star . . .

Judy: He was my son, my first-born, and more. He was my friend, my confidant, my constant reminder of how good life can be—and . . . how hurtful. ^

How good life can be, how good life can be

Judy: Matt's laugh, his wonderful hugs, his stories . . .

Matt writes about himself in a notebook:

I am funny, sometimes forgetful and messy and lazy. I am not a lazy person though. I am giving and understanding. And formal and polite. I am sensitive. I am honest. I am sincere.
And I am not a pest.

I am not a pest, I am not a pest . . .

I am my own person. I am warm.

I want my life to be happy and I want to be clearer about things. I want to feel good.

I love Wyoming . . .

I love Wyoming very much . . .

I love theatre
I love good friends
I love succeeding
I love pasta
I love jogging
I love walking and feeling good

I love Europe and driving and music and helping and smiling and Charlie and Jeopardy I love movies and eating and positive people and pasta and driving and walking and jogging and kissing and learning and airports and music and smiling and hugging and being myself I love theatre! I love theatre!
And I love to be on stage!+

Such an ordinary boy living ordinary days
In an ordinary life so worth living
He felt ordinary yearning and ordinary fears
With an ordinary hope for belonging

He felt ordinary yearning and ordinary fears
With an ordinary hope for belonging (Born to live this ordinary life) Just an ordinary boy living ordinary days with extraordinary kindness extraordinary laughter extraordinary shining extraordinary light and joy Joy and light.

I love, I love, I love . . .
Ordinary boy, ordinary boy

We Tell Each Other Stories

We tell each other stories so that we will remember Try and find the meaning in the living of our days

Always telling stories, wanting to remember Where and whom we came from Who we are

Sometimes there's a story that's painful to remember One that breaks the heart of us all Still we tell the story We're listening and confessing
What we have forgotten
In the story of us all

Trying to find the meaning . . .

I am open to hear this story about a boy, an ordinary boy Who never had expected his life would be this story, (could be any boy)

I am open to hear a story

*Open, listen.
All.*

PASSION

RECITATION I

Laramie, southeastern Wyoming, between the Snowy Range and the Laramie Range.
Tuesday, October 6, 1998.

The Fence (before)

Out and alone on the endless empty prairie the moon bathes me the stars bless me

the sun warms me the wind soothes me still still still

I wonder

will I always be out here exposed and alone?

will I ever know why I was put (here) on this earth?

will somebody someday stumble upon me?

will anyone remember me after I'm gone?

Still, still, still . . . I wonder.

RECITATION II

Tuesday night. Matthew attended a meeting of the University of Wyoming's Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender Association, then joined others for coffee at the College Inn. Around 10:30, he went to the Fireside Bar, where he later met Aaron McKinney and Russell Henderson. Near midnight, they drove him to a remote area, tied him to a buck and rail fence, beat him horribly and left him to die in the cold of night.

The Fence (that night)

*Most noble evergreen with your roots in the sun:
you shine in the cloudless sky of a sphere no earthly eminence can grasp,
You blush like the dawn, you burn like a flame of the sun. ^*

I held him all night long
He was heavy as a broken heart
Tears fell from his unblinking eyes
He was dead weight yet he kept breathing

He was heavy as a broken heart
His own heart wouldn't stop beating
The cold wind wouldn't stop blowing
His face streaked with moonlight and blood I tightened my grip and held on

The cold wind wouldn't stop blowing
We were out on the prairie alone
I tightened my grip and held on
I saw what was done to this child

We were out on the prairie alone
Their truck was the last thing he saw
I saw what was done to this child
I cradled him just like a mother

Most noble evergreen, most noble evergreen, your roots in the sun . . .

Their truck was the last thing he saw
Tears fell from his unblinking eyes
I cradled him just like a mother
I held him all night long

Most noble evergreen . . .

RECITATION III

The next morning, Matthew was found by a cyclist, a fellow student, who at first thought he was a scarecrow. After several days in a coma and on life support, Matthew Shepard died on Monday, October 12, at 12:53 a.m. At the funeral, which took place on Friday, October 16, at St Mark's Episcopal Church in Casper, Fred Phelps and the Westboro Baptist Church protested outside.

A Protestor

God Hates Fags, Matt in Hell

–Signs held by anti-gay protestors at Matthew Shepard's funeral and the trials of his murderers kreuzige, kreuzige! (translation: crucify, crucify)

A boy who takes a boy to bed?
Where I come from that's not polite
He asked for it, you got that right
The fires of Hell burn hot and red
The only good fag is a fag that's dead

A man and a woman, the Good Lord said As sure as Eve took that first bite
The fires of Hell burn hot and red kreuzige, kreuzige!

Beneath the Hunter's Moon he bled That must have been a pretty sight
The fires of Hell burn hot and red

C'mon, kids, it's time for bed Say your prayers, kiss Dad good night
A boy who takes a boy to bed?
The fires of Hell burn hot and red crucify, crucify . . . the light crucify the light . . .

Keep It Away From Me (The Wound of Love)

don't wanna look on this never get near flames too raw for me grief too deep keep it away from me
stay out of my heart
stay out of my hope some son, somebody's pain some child gone child never mine born to this trouble don't wanna be born to this world world where sometimes yes world where mostly no
the wound of love^

smoke round my throat rain down my soul

no heaven lies keep them gone keep them never grief too deep, flames too raw keep them away from me
 stay out of my heart
 stay out of my hope

don't try any old story on me no wing no song no cry no comfort ye no wound ever mine close up the gates of night
 the wound of love
keep this all away from me
 the wound of love
 you take away the wounds of the world
keep it away from me

RECITATION IV

National media began to broadcast the story. As the news began to spread, many people across the country gathered together in candlelight vigils, moved to (silently) speak for life over death, love over hate, light over darkness.

Fire of the Ancient Heart

Cantor:

"What have you done? Hark, thy brother's blood cries to me from the ground." ^

Choir:

Called by this candle
Led to the flame
Called to remember
Enter the flame

Cantor:

all our flames now swaying and free all our hearts now moving as one every living spirit turned toward peace all our tender hopes awake

Choir:

*Called by this candle
Led to the flame
Called to remember
Enter the flame*

Fire: howl Fire: broken
Fire: burst
Fire: rage
Fire: swell Fire: shatter Fire: wail

Fire

We all betray the ancient heart Ev'ry one of us, all of us His heart, my heart, your heart, one heart
"In each moment the fire rages, it will burn away a hundred veils."# Burning Breaking Grasping Raging

*how do we keep these flames in our hands?
how do we guard these fears in our hearts?
how long to hold these griefs in our songs?*

remembering anger weave it with hope remembering exile braid it with praise longing past horror longing past dread dreaming of healing past all our pain

Fire: living in me Fire: purify Fire: now hold me Fire: seize my heart

(enter the flame, enter the flame shatter my heart, shatter my heart called to enter, burn a hundred veils)

Called by this flame Fire of my heart:
Break down all walls
Open all doors
Only this Love

"Eyes of flesh, eyes of fire"~

*Lumina, lumina, lumina Open us,
All!*

(In each moment the fire rages, it will burn away a hundred veils.)

RECITATION V

Aaron McKinney and Russell Henderson were arrested shortly after the attack and charged with murder, kidnapping, and aggravated robbery. The first of two trials began on October 26, 1999; both were convicted of the murder and sentenced to two consecutive life sentences.

We Are All Sons

*Stray birds of summer come to my window to sing and fly away.
And yellow leaves of autumn which have no songs flutter and fall there with a sigh.
Once we dreamt that we were strangers.
We wake up to find that we were dear to each other.^*

we are all sons of fathers and mothers
we are all sons

we are all rivers the roar of waters, we are all sons

I Am Like You

I am like you

Aaron

and Russell

When I think of you (and honestly I don't like to think about you) but sometimes I do, I am so horrified, and just so angry and confused (and scared) that you could do things to another boy—they were so cruel and so undeserved, so dark and hard and full of (I don't know)

Late one night I had a glimpse of something I recognized, just a tiny glimpse—I don't even like to say this out loud, it isn't even all that true—but I wondered for a moment, am I like you? (in any way)

(I pray the answer is no)
Am I like you?
I bet you once had hopes and dreams, too.

Some things we love get lost along the way,
That's just like me—get lost along the way—I am like you, I get confused and I'm afraid and I've been reckless, I've been restless, bored, unthinking, listless, intoxicated, I've come unhinged, and made mistakes and hurt people very much.

Sometimes I feel (in springtime, in early afternoon) the sunshine warm on my face; you feel this too (don't you?), the sunshine warm on your face.

I am like you
(this troubles me)
I am like you (just needed to say this)

Some things we love get lost along the way.

we are all sons of fathers and mothers
we are all sons

sometimes no home for us here on the earth no place to lay our heads
we are all sons of fathers and mothers

if you could know for one moment how it is to live in our bodies within the world

if you could know you ask too much of us you ask too little

The Innocence

When I think of all the times the world was ours for dreaming, When I think of all the times the earth seemed like our home-Every heart alive with its own longing, Every future we could ever hope to hold.

All the times our laughter rang in summer,
All the times the rivers sang our tune-Was there already sadness in the sunlight?
Some stormy story waiting to be told?

*Where O where has the innocence gone?
Where O where has it gone?
Rains rolling down wash away my memory;
Where O where has it gone?*

When I think of all the joys, the wonders we remember All the treasures we believed we'd never ever lose.
Too many days gone by without their meaning, Too many darkened hours without their peace.

Where O where has the innocence gone?

*Where O where has it gone?
Vows we once swore, now it's just this letting go,
Where O where has it gone?*

RECITATION VI

In the days and weeks after Matthew's death, many people came to the fence to pay homage and pray and grieve.

The Fence (one week later)

I have seen people come out here with a pocketknife and take a piece of the fence, like a relic, like an icon. —Rev. Stephen M. Johnson, Unitarian minister

I keep still I stand firm
I hold my ground while they lay down

flowers and photos prayers and poems crystals and candles sticks and stones

they come in herds they stand and stare they sit and sigh they crouch and cry

some of them touch me in unexpected ways without asking permission and then move on but I don't mind being a shrine is better than being the scene of the crime

RECITATION VII

Matthew's father made his statement to the court on November 5, 1999.

STARS

By the end of the beating, his body was just trying to survive. You left him out there by himself, but he wasn't alone. There were his lifelong friends with him—friends that he had grown up with. You're probably wondering who these friends were. First, he had the beautiful night sky with the same stars and moon that we used to look at through a telescope. Then, he had the daylight and the sun to shine on him one more time—one more cool, wonderful autumn day in Wyoming. His last day alive in Wyoming. His last day alive in the state that he always proudly called home. And through it all he was breathing in for the last time the smell of Wyoming sagebrush and the scent of pine trees from the snowy range. He heard the wind—the ever-present Wyoming wind—for the last time. He had one more friend with him. One he grew to know through his time in Sunday school and as an acolyte at St. Mark's in Casper as well as through his visits to St. Matthew's in Laramie.

I feel better knowing he wasn't alone.

RECITATION VIII

Matthew was left tied to the fence for almost eighteen hours.

In Need of Breath

Matt:

My heart

Is an unset jewel

Upon the tender night

Yearning for its dear old friend

The Moon.

When the Nameless One debuts again
Ten thousand facets of my being unfurl wings And reveal such a radiance inside

I enter a realm divine—I too begin to sweetly cast light,
Like a lamp,
I cast light Through the streets of this World.

My heart is an unset jewel Upon existence
Waiting for the Friend's touch.

Tonight

My heart is an unset ruby
Offered bowed and weeping to the Sky.
I am dying in these cold hours For the resplendent glance of God.

My heart
Is an unset jewel
Upon the tender night

My heart is an unset ruby
Offered bowed and weeping to the Sky.

Gently Rest (Deer Lullaby)

Gently rest now, you the child of angels Spirit shining, resting in creation Universe is holding you so deeply
Gently rest now, you the child of angels

Deer beside you, hear your brother breathing With you always in your starry shelter Dreaming in the holy home of wonder Universe is holding you so deeply Light of every sun you felt around you Blessing bringing our own hearts of longing Spirit sleeping in the arms of ages
Gently rest now, you the child of angels

Universe now dreaming you so deeply Spirit shining, home within creation Dreaming in eternal light of wonder Gently rest now, you the child of angels
Spirit sleeping in the arms of angels Gently rest . . .

RECITATION IX

Sheriff's Deputy, Reggie Fluty, the first to report to the scene, told Judy Shepard that as she ran to the fence she saw a large doe lying near Matt—as if the deer had been keeping him company all through the night.

Deer Song

Deer:

A mist is over the mountain,
 The stars in their meadows upon the air,
Your people are waiting below them,
 And you know there's a gathering there.
All night I lay there beside you,
 I cradled your pain in my care,
We move through creation together,
 And we know there's a welcoming there.

Welcome, welcome, sounds the song,
 Calling, calling clear;
Always with us, evergreen heart,
 Where can we be but there?

Matthew:

I'll find all the love I have longed for,
 The home that's been calling my heart so long So soon I'll be cleansed in those waters, My fevers forever be gone;
Where else on earth but these waters?
 No more, no more to be torn;
My own ones, my dearest, are waiting—
 And I'll weep to be where I belong.

Welcome, welcome, sounds the song,
 Calling, calling clear;
Always with me, evergreen heart,
 Where can I be but here?

Pilgrimage

The land was sold and a new fence now stands about fifty yards away. People still come to pay their respects. – Jim Osborn, friend of Matthew Shepard

I walk to the fence with beauty before me
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want

I walk to the fence with beauty behind me Yit'gadal v'yit' kadash (may his great name grow)

I walk to the fence with beauty above me

Om Mani Padme Ham (Om! the jewel in the lotus, hum!)

I walk to the fence with beauty below me Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit

I reach the fence surrounded by beauty wail of wind, cry of hawk

I leave the fence surrounded by beauty sigh of sagebrush, hush of stone

(Beauty above me, beauty below me By beauty surrounded)

*Still, still, still, I wonder....

*Still, still, still, I wonder. . .
wail of wind, cry of hawk*

Still still still

EPILOGUE

Meet Me Here

Won't you meet me here
Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins
There's a balm in the silence
Like an understanding air
Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins*

We've been walking through the darkness
On this long, hard climb Carried ancestral sorrow
For too long a time
Will you lay down your burden Lay it down, come with me
It will never be forgotten Held in love, so tenderly

Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins
There's a joy in the singing
Like an understanding air
Where the fence ends and the horizon begins.*

Then we'll come to the mountain We'll go bounding to see That great circle of dancing And we'll dance endlessly
And we'll dance with the all the children Who've been lost along the way We will welcome each other Coming home, this glorious day

*We are home in the mountain And we'll gently understand That we've been friends forever That we've never been alone We'll sing on through any darkness
And our Song will be our sight
We can learn to offer praise again Coming home to the light . . .*

Thanks

Choir: Thank you
Thank you, thank you Hohou, hohou (Arahapo—thank you) Yontonwe (Huron—thank you) signs of You everywhere, signs in the darkness signs in the fires signs of You in the hurt streets signs in the tents, the tunnels signs of You in the tiniest beating heart thank you our cry to be sung

even in this rain

out of the mouths of visions torn open out of abandoned tongues out of the mouths of children lost in the furnaces out of the bloody lullabies out of the beaks of buried eagles the forests wrapped in rags wires of lightning loose and writhing out of skies as stained as the seas we cry our song to be sung

even in this rain

sit with her now, old earth hear her stories all we have already been given all we have yet to do on watch keeping our hands in the wounds

even in this rain

how might we ever say to You we have ceased to dream never forgetting remembering how every breathing remembers to build the world

nobody no one turned away nobody
 no one unworthy nobody

no one ashamed

yes each silence yes each radiance yes each shadow yes each praise mind into heart, mind into heart each dream walks on

even in this rain

thank you

*Hohou, Yontonwe . . .
Thank you*

All Of Us

What could be the song?
Where begin again?
Who could meet us there?
Where might we begin?
From the shadows climb,
Rise to sing again;
Where could be the joy?
How do we begin?

Never our despair,
Never the least of us,
Never turn away,
Never hide our face;
Ordinary boy,
Only all of us,
Free us from our fear,
Only all of us.

What could be the song?
Where begin again?
Who could meet us there?
Where might we begin?
From the shadows climb,
Rise to sing again;
Where could be the joy?
How do we begin?

Never our despair,
Never the least of us,
Never turn away,

Never hide your face;
Ordinary boy,
Only all of us,
Free us from our fear.

Only in the Love,
Love that lifts us up,
Clear from out the heart
From the mountain's side, Come creation come,
Strong as any stream;
How can we let go? How can we forgive?
How can we be dream?

Out of heaven, rain,
Rain to wash us free;
Rivers flowing on,
Ever to the sea;
Bind up every wound,
Every cause to grieve;
Always to forgive,
Only to believe.

[Chorale:]

*Most noble Light, Creation's face, How should we live but joined in you, Remain within your saving grace Through all we say and do And know we are the Love that moves The sun and all the stars?+
O Love that dwells, O Love that burns In every human heart.*

(Only in the Love, Love that lifts us up!)

*This evergreen, this heart, this soul, Now moves us to remake our world, Reminds us how we are to be Your people born to dream;
How old this joy, how strong this call,
To sing your radiant care With every voice, in cloudless hope Of our belonging here.*

Only in the Love . . .
Only all of us . . .

(Heaven: Wash me . . .)

All of us, only all of us.

What could be the song?
Where do we begin?
Only in the Love, Love that lifts us up.

All Of Us

All.

“Introduction” from OCTOBER MOURNING: A SONG FOR MATTHEW SHEPARD by Lesléa Newman

On Tuesday, October 6, 1998, at approximately 11:45 p.m., twenty-one-year-old Matthew Shepard, a gay college student attending the University of Wyoming, was kidnapped from a bar by twenty-one-year old Aaron McKinney and twenty-one-year-old Russell Henderson. Pretending to be gay, the two men lured Matthew Shepard into their truck, drove him to the outskirts of Laramie, robbed him, beat him with a pistol, tied him to a buck-rail fence, and left him to die. The next day, at about 6:00 p.m. – eighteen hours after the attack – he was discovered and taken to a hospital. He never regained consciousness and died five days later, on Monday, October 12, with his family by his side.

One of the last things Matthew Shepard did that Tuesday night was attend a meeting of the University of Wyoming’s Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgendered Association. The group was putting final touches on plans for Gay Awareness Week, scheduled to begin the following Sunday, October 11, coinciding with a National Coming Out Day. Planned campus activities included a film showing, an open poetry reading, and a keynote speaker.

That keynote speaker was me.

I never forgot what happened in Laramie, and around the tenth anniversary of Matthew Shepard’s death, I found myself thinking more and more about him. And so I began writing a series of poems, striving to create a work of art that explores the events surrounding Matthew Shepard’s murder in order to gain a better understanding of their impact on myself and the world.

What really happened at the fence that night? Only three people know the answer to that question. Two of them are imprisoned, convicted murderers whose stories often contradict each other (for example, in separate interviews both McKinney and Henderson have claimed that he alone tied Matthew Shepard to the fence). The other person who knows what really happened that night is dead. We will never know his side of the story.

This book is my side of the story.

While the poems in this book are inspired by actual events, they do not in any way represent the statements, thoughts, feelings, opinions, or attitudes of any actual person. The statements, thoughts, feelings, opinions, and attitudes conveyed belong to me. All monologues contained within the poems are figments of my imagination; no actual person spoke any of the words contained within the body of any poem. Those words are mine and mine alone. When the words of an actual person are used as a short epigraph for a poem, the source of that quote is cited at the back of the book in a section entitled "Notes," which contains citations and suggestions for further reading about the crime. The poems, which are meant to be read in sequential order as one whole work, are a work of poetic invention and imagination: a historical novel in verse. The poems are not an objective reporting of Matthew Shepard's murder and its aftermath; rather they are my own personal interpretation of them.

There is a bench on the campus of the University of Wyoming dedicated to Matthew Shepard, inscribed with the words He continues to make a difference. My hope is that readers of October Mourning: A Song for Matthew Shepard will be inspired to make a difference and honor his legacy by erasing hate and replacing it with compassion, understanding, and love.
