About the Artist

In a career spanning 35 years, Philadelphia native and resident GREG KETTINGER has performed with many jazz, pop, and R&B greats including Aretha Franklin, Shirley Scott, Johnny Coles, the Temptations and many more. As an original member of the Jazz Orchestra of Philadelphia he has shared the stage with countless jazz legends. His recording credits include several John Vanore and Abstract Truth releases, the “Stolen Moments” tribute to Oliver Nelson, “Conjunto Philadelphia”, and his own release – “Could It Be...”.

As an educator he has enjoyed a thirty-year career at Temple, St. Joseph’s, and Widener Universities and is chair of both jazz theory and jazz guitar at Temple.

He continues to perform and record locally and on the East Coast at concert halls, festivals, and clubs hundreds of times per year.
